

Practising Social Change

The new practitioner's journal of the NTL Institute for Applied Behavioral Science

Practising Social Change is a collaborative and reflective meeting place for practitioners in Applied Behavioural Science who seek to work at their developmental edge: curious, conceptual thinkers charged with supporting change in work relationships, in teams, in communities or in the larger society, and who may be able to learn from the experience of others in different parts of the world.

In the first edition of the journal you will find these articles:

- The Healing Power of Systems Change in a Fragile World by Dr Louise Diamond
- The Shape of the Next Game by Dr Frances Baldwin
- My Practice/My Theory by Dr Argentine Saunders Craig
- The Vital Dimension of Social Change by Dr Ed Olson
- Trainers and Consultants, What Do You Want to Know? What's Your Burning Question? What Have You Done With Your Inner Researcher? By Dr David Kiel
- A Tribute to the Life and Work of Dr Fred Massarik by Dr Ted Tschudy
- Stop Press – The 2010 NTL Conference on The New OD

NTL is providing the first edition of its new on-line journal free of charge to people on its email database. Thereafter, it will be available electronically to subscribers twice a year at an inaugural fee of $29.95 per annum. A hard copy compilation of articles will be available at the end of the year at an additional charge.

Email editor@ntl-psc.org for your free copy of the first issue.